

NAVIGATING the NEW BobCat library.newschool.edu/bobcat

The New School Libraries

The New School Libraries are pleased to introduce the new BobCat.

Here's what you will see when you start your search for library materials.

The Initial Search Screen

The screenshot shows the BobCat search interface. At the top left is the New School University logo. A search bar is present with a 'GO' button. Below the search bar are three tabs: 'All Consortium Libraries', 'New School Resources', and 'Course Reserves'. The search bar has a callout box: 'Search for books, journal titles, videos, sound recordings, scripts, scores and more'. To the right of the search bar is another callout: 'Search for newspaper, magazine and journal titles in e-formats'. Below the search bar are three dropdown menus: 'Limit to All items', 'that contain my query words', and 'Anywhere in the record'. There are links for 'New Search' and 'Advanced Search'. A 'simple search box (accommodates boolean searching)' callout points to the search bar. On the right side, there is a 'My Library Account' section with a 'Sign in for full access' link, a 'Guest e-Shelf' button, and links for '? Help' and 'My Preferences'. A callout box says: 'Keep a permanent list of sources, check your current loans and renew books'. Below the search bar is a section titled 'About the New BobCat' with text about searching resources, sections for 'Books and More' and 'Articles and Databases', and links for database listings. To the right of this section is a 'New School Library Links' section with links for 'Library Hours and Locations', 'Electronic Resources and Databases', and 'Library Classes and Events'. Below that is an 'Ask A Librarian' section with links for 'By Email', 'By Phone', and 'Schedule A One-on-One Appointment'. At the bottom right, a callout box says 'Access Databases and Electronic Resources' with a line pointing to the 'Electronic Resources and Databases' link.

About the New BobCat

Introducing a new way to search the resources of the New School Libraries. Use the tabs above to find print, electronic and multimedia resources:

Books and More
Search here for books, journals and other print materials, videos, sound recordings, e-books, e-journals, and indexes in our local libraries and special collections. You can also search for items in the libraries of New York University, Cooper Union, New York Historical Society, Brooklyn Historical Society and the New York Institute of Interior Design. Note that journals, magazines, databases and indexes will be listed by title only, and individual articles will not be listed in BobCat.

Articles and Databases
In order to search for articles within and across the New School Library's databases, please use QuickSearch - a utility that searches a selection of the library's largest databases for articles. QuickSearch searches many of the library's electronic databases from a single searchbox. You can search by subject as well as database title. However, there are databases that do not connect to QuickSearch. In order to search these databases, users may have to choose a particular database that specializes in that type of media or subject area (i.e. classical.com, Naxos and DRAM for digital music, or Artstor, AP Photo Archive or the Digital Media Collection for images, Theatre in Video, BBC Video, for video, etc.). In the title and subject lists, databases are indicated as to whether they are QuickSearch/SubjectSearch-compatible.

For a listing of databases by title, go to <http://library.newschool.edu/eresources/listbyletter.php>

For a listing of databases by subject, go to <http://library.newschool.edu/eresources>
